"Gavin has worked for me in his role as Managing Director of Oasis Property - a specialist buying agency in Sydney.

Having struggled finding a home in the competitive Sydney real estate market for some time as well as having been disappointed with the service offering of traditional real estate sales agents (who represent the seller and therefore want to achieve the highest price possible) I researched the market for potential buyer agencies in Sydney.

After having contacted all of the well known buying agencies I decided to go with Oasis Property and Gavin. I made this decision based on his professionalism, expertise and excellent client testimonials.

In a very, very competitive market, with quick moving competition he was able to secure us the ideal place which fulfils our requirements as a couple and does justice to our lifestyle, living amenity and requirement for 'development' potential well into the future.

He and his team were able to secure the place pre-auction which resulted in considerable savings as this property could well have gone for an extra 50K in the present market.

His not only performed the necessary due diligence very quickly (which helped us beat any competition looking at the property and left us with an almost unfettered option at purchasing the house) but his in-house conveyancing team also made sure that the acceptance and exchange of contract went very swiftly and efficiently.

I'd recommend Gavin's service offering to anyone with limited time and knowledge in the Sydney property market. He is a true professional and value provider."
